

Built Well Solar Company Timeline

516-695-1000
info@builtwellsolar.com

2001 2002 2003 2004 2005 2006 2007 2008 2009 2010 2011 2012 2013 2014 2015 2016

Built Well Solar Corp. ("BWS") is founded by Dan Sabia, Long Island's original solar energy company.

Dan Sabia orchestrates and oversees the installation of 1st large-scale solar energy system at a school district on Long Island, Carle Place Schools (feature story on this runs in The New York Times in March 2007.)

BWS designs and installs first-ever 10 kilowatt residential PV system on Long Island.

BWS is corporate sponsor of NYIT's US Dept. of Energy Solar Decathlon team & Dan Sabia serves as its Alumni Advisor.

BWS joins SEIA and NYSEIA.

BWS is first solar energy company to become a member of non-profit Renewable Energy Long Island (RELI), and participates in its first National Solar Tour.

When a freak tornado slams Islip Terrace, the solar panels installed by BWS on a home in its path remain intact, testament to the quality of engineering and installation.

BWS joins newly formed LISEIA.

LIPA dedicates its 750th residential solar home on Long Island, which BWS installed.

Global skylight company VELUX selects BWS as its exclusive local solar hot water system installer.

BWS is voted "Best of Long Island" Solar Energy Company, thanks to our customers, the first time in what will be four years in a row (2009, 2010, 2011, 2012!)

BWS is Better Business Bureau accredited, rated A+.

As a solar industry pioneer, Dan Sabia is nominated for Long Island Smart Growth Leadership Award in "Clean Energy" category.

In honor of BWS's 10th anniversary, Bellmore Chamber of Commerce conducts special ribbon-cutting ceremony.

BWS launches "Sunny Times®."

Solar Power World ranks BWS among "2013 Top 250 U.S. Solar Contractors."

BWS is voted "Best of Long Island" Solar Energy business 4th year in a row, and in new category Alternative Energy Company.

Dan Sabia featured in 2012 "World Almanac for Kids" & in Newsday's "Executive Suite".

Solar Power World ranks BWS among "2014 Top 400 U.S. Solar Contractors" & runs feature story on Dan Sabia, "Long Island's true Solar Pioneer."

BWS is voted Nassau County's best business in the 2014 Nassau Happening List -- winner in three "For the Home" categories.

Solar Power World ranks BWS among "2015 Top 500 U.S. Solar Contractors" & 2016 is our 15th Year!