

Liventus Expands with the Acquisition of DLS Software Studios

NORTHBROOK, Ill, June 13, 2017— Liventus has proudly announced its acquisition of DLS Software Studios. The acquisition marks a growth milestone for both companies and sets them up to continue to offer current and future clients state-of-the-art business services.

“This acquisition is very exciting for many reasons, one of the biggest being that Liventus is now an even stronger organization in delivering quality services to our clients, specifically around custom software development, business process automations, and integrations,” said Daniel Levin, President of Liventus. “DLS’ expertise and extensive experience in software development will be a great compliment to our existing organization and will create synergies that will directly benefit our employees and clients. Liventus’ already comprehensive experience and resources will also immediately benefit DLS clients. I think this merger is a win-win all around.”

With the addition of the DLS Software Studios team, Liventus continues on its growth trajectory while seamlessly integrating DLS’ extensive experience in software development with its own. Like Liventus, DLS specializes in several areas and offers software development, website design and development, e-commerce solutions, and mobile app services. The staff will be joining Liventus to create a multi-talented, well-rounded organization.

“The merger between DLS Software Studios and Liventus brings together the skills and resources of two world class custom software development companies. DLS Software Studios was founded on passion for our work and close relationships with our clients. Liventus carries those same values which makes this merger a perfect fit,” said Tim Dolloff, former CEO of DLS Software Studios and new Liventus Principal. “I’m looking forward to this merger and am excited to add our expertise in the open source platforms of Magento and WordPress to the family of services that Liventus already provides.”

The acquisition promises to be a seamless transition from two companies into one. All involved, from employees to clients, stand to benefit. By joining Liventus, DLS Software Studios gains the larger company’s resources, expertise, and stand-out reputation. DLS brings with them extensive experience in software development.

The combination of the teams’ skills and experience will ensure Liventus further establishes itself as a premier Business Solutions Technology leader prepared to offer clients a wide range of services while maintaining superior customer service.

“This merger between DLS and Liventus is our next logical step in continuing to add value for our customers and our company through new services and expanded capabilities,” said Liventus CEO Sam Oliva. “With that being said, I would like to welcome DLS and the many talented programmers and project managers, and Tim Dolloff, their founder and leader.”

For the latest Liventus news or for more information regarding their services, visit www.liventus.com

ABOUT LIVENTUS

Liventus is a full-service Business Solutions Technology company offering clients teams of developers, UI/UX designers, marketing professionals, network managers, and business consultants to help with all their technology and automation needs. For over fifteen years, Liventus has been dedicated to ensuring all clients reach their business potential through the use of custom developed software created to meet their unique requirements. Liventus' in-depth knowledge and experience of both business and technology differentiates them from other development companies. Liventus prides itself on their ability to provide superior services and exceed expectations. For more information, visit www.liventus.com.

###