

Biography

HILARY KINNEY, PMP
PARENT, PROJECT MANAGER, AUTHOR

Hilary Kinney is a project manager with 17 years of experience at a Fortune 500 company. She is also the proud mother of an elementary school student. Her recent parenting accomplishments include teaching him to, among other things, plan his day independently, make dinner, and get his chores done without complaining – most of the time. She is also an award-winning blogger, and author of a book called Project Management for Parents published by Morgan James.

Hilary's career achievements range from facilitating a C-suite-sponsored customer recognition program across 7,000 properties globally to directing special projects from the president's office at The Ritz-Carlton Hotel Company. While working at The Ritz-Carlton Corporate Headquarters, Hilary developed global communications to reinforce the company's vision and key success factors. She also was a founding member of the Corporate Program Management Office. Hilary was proud to be part of the team when The Ritz-Carlton achieved the top-ranked position in the J.D. Power Luxury Hotel Guest Satisfaction Award for seven out of eight years.

Hilary earned a B.S. in Hotel Administration from Cornell University. She holds a Project Management Professional (PMP)[®] Certification from the Project Management Institute, as well as a Change Practitioner Certification from the Prosci[®] Change Management Leadership Center. Hilary lives in the Washington, DC area, where she enjoys outdoor activities with her family.
