###

Traffic Management Inc. (TMI) is a privately-owned minority business based company in Southern California, co-owned by brothers Chris and Jonathan Spano. TMI is a company whose complete knowledge of traffic control management is integral to the daily flow of the lives of commuters. Its engineers design the traffic plans that result in lane closures due to road repairs, large events and big infrastructure projects.

TMI started with very humble beginnings in 1995 in the garage of their great grandmother with only a handful of employees when the brothers were just teenagers. Today, nearly 25 years later, TMI is now one of the largest organically grown traffic management companies in the United States.
